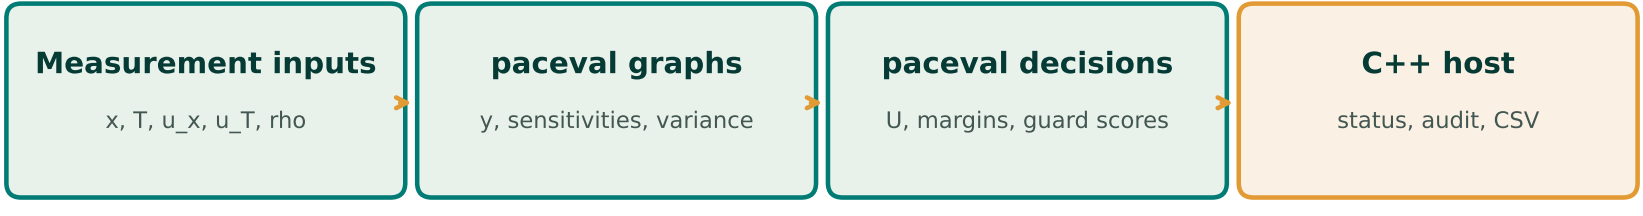
An executed mathematical chain using persistent paceval handles



Concept schematic; the underlying numerical calculations and later figures use real paceval execution